

Funeral Services Held for Mrs. A. R. Rhind Tuesday

Rev. R. B. Layton Officiates at Funeral; St. Andrew's Church Packed With Friends Present to Pay Last Respects

Funeral services were held from St. Andrew's church Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Bob Rhind, well known local resident who was accidentally drowned in the waters of Sylvan Lake Sunday. Although the accident surrounding her death remains a mystery, Dr. H. Nix, coroner, Red Deer, after fully investigating the case, stated death was caused through accidental drowning. The theory that the heavy wind Sunday morning might have caused Mrs. Rhind to lose her balance on the narrow pier was advanced, and considering the force of the gale which blew over the straits in the vicinity Sunday morning, the theory was considered plausible.

The many floral tributes and the large attendance at the funeral attested to the esteem in which Mrs. Rhind was held in the district. Rev. R. B. Layton of Medicine Hat, formerly of Lacombe officiated.

Mrs. Rhind who was 48 years of age was born at Gateshead, Eng., her maiden name having been Elizabeth Gardner. In 1914 she came to Canada and on the 14th of July was married to A. R. Rhind, at that time an employee of the Lacombe Experimental Station. In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Jean, 21, and Gladys 19 years old.

Mrs. Rhind was a charter member of the Lacombe Club, which was organized in February, 1922, and whose members attended the funeral in a body. At the graveside following the service each one deposited a poppy in the grave.

The deceased was also very active in the work of the Ladies Guild, and one of its best and most faithful attendants of St. Andrew's Senior Choir.

Possessed of a witty humor, Mrs. Rhind was popular in any gathering, and will be greatly missed in the life of the community. As Mr. Layton said in the funeral service, "On this occasion, Lacombe is an open heart and that heart a sore one."

Pall bearers were J. N. B. Macdonald, James Scorgie, Gordon Brown, T. Wilks, C. E. Todd and O. Lundberg.

Attendance at the funeral was the largest for some time and the profusion of floral tributes banked the pulpit and choir platform. The Lacombe Funeral Home had charge of funeral arrangements.

Levy, eye specialist, of Edmonton.

Dr. Levy advised the removal of the injured eye to save the other eye.

Fine Indian Summer Weather Continues Into November

Eighty-four degrees above on the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 23, and still keeping well above the zero point, Old Man Weather is extending Indian Summer in this district well beyond its usual date. Although the latter part of August and the first few days of September were colder than usual for that time of year, the weather this fall has been remarkable and has been a life saver for the farmers, who at one time had visions of threshing next Spring.

Small showers in the district over the week-end delayed the threshing operations for a day or two in some localities, but the work is now about completed.

With this wonderful weather, local habitants have the laugh on those who have left for warmer climes!

416 Students Are Enrolled At School

Close to twenty students are taking advantage of the night classes Monday and Thursday evenings, in which typing, bookkeeping and shorthand are taught.

No Damage Done Halloween Night

The cry of "Trick or Treat" heard around Town Saturday night amid a drizzle of rain was all that Halloween meant to Lacombe. No vandalism, practical jokes or damage was caused, according to the police. Extra officers for the evening patrolled the streets to keep childish pranks within reason, but they had little work to do. "One of the quietest Halloween's in years," claimed Chief of Police S. L. Warrier.

Young Women's Auxiliary Conducts Service Sunday

Evening services at St. Andrew's United Church were conducted by the Young Women's Auxiliary on Sunday, Oct. 31st. Mrs. George Brooks, president, officiated. Mrs. H. E. Wilson read the Scripture lesson, and the address was given by Mrs. A. Newman. Ushers were Mrs. W. Mills, Mrs. E. Wright, Mrs. F. Buch and Miss A. Frizell.

Mrs. Newman's talk was centered around the text, "Whether therefore, ye eat, or drink, or whatever ye do, do it all to the glory of God." She spoke of the lesson God was trying to teach His people through the ancient sacrifices, that new life comes through the sacrifice of Christ. He must die that they might have new life. Christians today ought to think of the paring of food as a sacrament before God, as not only the life of God's creatures, but the toil and lives of many men and women, who are working to provide the world's food, are given to sustain and strengthen man, whose life in turn should be given in service to God.

Continuing, Mrs. Newman said: "Paul warned against eating and drinking unworthily—that is, making a drunken brawl or orgy of what should be a sacrament, and a right attitude of mind toward food and drink would solve many problems, such as physical disabilities caused through gluttony, and the problem of strong drink."

POPPY DAY, NOVEMBER 6

Next Saturday, Nov. 6th, is Poppy Day in Lacombe, and townspeople with those in the district will want to buy a Poppy, to remember those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War.

Let everyone wear a Poppy next Saturday.

Threshing Operations Pretty Well Finished For This Season

Coarse grains continue to pour into the local elevators, and the stream of wheat dwindling off the past few days. Threshing operations throughout the district being well finished, elevator men are in a position to properly estimate the 1937 crop.

Wheat has been a little disappointing this year in yields, and has been spotty.

Yields of coarse grains appear to be above average, and with a fair price attached, are bringing in large amounts of money to the farmers.

Old Hospital Staff To Be Retained In New Hospital

The entire staff of the old hospital was engaged for the new Community Hospital at the regular meeting of the Lacombe and District Community Hospital Board held in the Town Office Friday night. The new hospital will operate with no increased staff for the first month or so until such time as the Board is in a position to definitely decide on the necessary number in the staff.

The front of the new hospital is to be terraced down to the road, the ditch will be filled in, and a circular driveway made up to the entrance, it was decided. In the Spring a lawn is to be sown, flower plots will be laid out and shrubs and trees planted.

P. C. Owen was appointed a committee of one to purchase coal for the new hospital to the best possible advantage. The Hospital Board subscribed to a membership in the Alberta Hospital Association for an annual fee of $10.00. A heavy automatic stocker was purchased. The position of a fireman-janitor was left in abeyance for the time being, the salary alone being set.

Large Numbers Attend Halloween Party At McLaurin Beach

SUNNY CREST.—Friday evening a large number of young people and some old ones, too, gathered in the gaily decorated dining hall at McLaurin Beach. Two gleaming pumpkin faces met everyone at the door. Inside a fire crackled merrily in the stone fireplace, while costumed figures roamed about. There was a ghost, a black cat, a cowboy, Mexican, dainty dressed ladies and what-not. After the parade of these guests the winner was declared to be someone dressed as a girl but was no doubt a boy by the way he wore his clothes. When "she" unmasked "he" was found to be Gordon Belfus.

In the opening guessing game the winner was Mrs. McNell, her prize being a kazoo. Fay Saunders won a mouth organ for the "best snorer." In this game the guests had to guess the contents of some everyday liquids in small bottles, by smelling them. Then there was a contest to see who could dress a potato best, with bits of cloth, tooth picks, matches and a knife. The winners brought forth a fine bird with cloth wings and tail, etc.; Mrs. Johnson was the designer. An Indian rajah with match eyes, necktie and all, by was made by Herbert Woods. Prizes were a bottle of perfume and a leather bookmark.

The lights were turned out while Miss Carter related a story by the fire-side, about some doctors and a dead man who were experimenting on. As she talked she passed in the dark, the different organs of the body such as the brain, the heart, the hair, a leg and his stomach. These, of course, were only the hands of a grape, macaroni, a ham of a ham, some horse-hair, stuffed stockings and a blown up bladder.

There were squeals of horror and much laughter. A good time was had by all except those who could not stand the story, and those who couldn't be still dreaming of dissected patients.

CATTLE SHIPPED

Four carloads of cattle left Lacombe Tuesday, destined for Nova Scotia, one car being purchased by Nova Scotia Agricultural College and the other three being bought by individual feeders. MacKenzie Bros. were the shippers.

Association Asks For Restoration of Govt. Road Grants

Central Alberta Association of Municipal Districts Holds Annual Meeting at Red Deer

A resolution asking the Provincial Government to restore road grants to the municipalities to assist in the construction and maintenance of municipal roads was passed at the annual meeting of the Central Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, held in Red Deer Saturday. The resolution read in full:

"Whereas those cars and trucks and operated within a municipality pay their license fee to the Provincial Government, and

"Whereas cars and trucks owned travel chiefly on municipal roads, causing additional burdens by way of increased expenditures

"Therefore be it resolved that the Provincial Government be urged to restore road grants to municipalities to assist in the construction and maintenance of municipal roads."

Ten Districts Represented

Ten municipal districts in all were represented at the meeting. Reeve Harry Brownlow of the Municipal District of Lorne was re-elected president of the association for the coming year; W. R. Baycroft was elected vice-president and O. W. Huespelt, A. A. Stonehouse and W. H. Stretch were elected directors.

Considerable discussion took place on the circular form from the Bureau of Relief and Public Welfare regarding the municipal districts assuming all responsibility for unemployment. The discussion resulted in a resolution requesting the "Provincial Government that in future the local municipality be the sole arbiter in who is to be relieved and is not eligible for relief and in what amount."

Address by Maynard

Hon. Lucien Maynard gave a short address in which he assured the delegates present of the fullest co-operation of the Department in dealing with their many problems and expressed his willingness to discuss with the delegates any questions concerning municipal work.

A third resolution passed petitioned the "Provincial Government to pass a Poll Tax Law whereby all non-taxable residents over 21 years of age be compelled to contribute to the Municipal Districts who have received all the Social Services for which the property owners are directly taxed."

Serving Its Purpose

WHILE the Dominion Government deliberates on the three Alberta acts referred to by the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, Premier Aberhart and his cohorts in Edmonton continue serenely in office—serenely, because once more public interest has been switched from the fantastic $25.00 per month dividend to the coming action of the Dominion Government. The Federal body has consented to the power of its veto being tested in the Supreme Court of Canada, but under the B.N.A. Act, which gives the Federal Government this power and the verdict rests in their hands.

If the Dominion Government vetoes the bills, two courses are possible. In the first place, it is not presumptuous to believe that another special meeting of the Legislature will be called to discuss this latest turn of events. It is possible, perhaps probable, that, judging by events of the past year, more acts or bills will be passed, as anti-British in principle as those pushed through the Legislature at the last session. These in turn will be referred to the Dominion Government and events will stand as they do now, with the people thinking more of the Dominion's action than of the basic dividend.

The other course would likely be the more popular one with the people. Premier Aberhart would probably throw up his hands, ask how it was possible to install Social Credit principles with every move being blocked, and ask for a mandate from the people through the medium of an election, using as his platform the difficulties he has had with the Dominion Government and asking for their vote of confidence.

Should, however, the Dominion Government allow the bills to stand (a possible though not probable contingency), chaos would follow. The banks have already served warning, not once but several times, that should the bills be enforced, their branches in Alberta would close up. With the banks gone, business suspended and the province in an uproar, the still numerous followers of Social Credit would be sadly deluded when they found that basic dividends were no closer with this legislation than they were before the bills were passed.

Thus, the Federal Government finds itself in a difficult predicament. On the one hand, vetoing the bills would preserve British rights and individual freedom in Alberta and save the province from chaos—but at the same time, the disallowance of these bills leaves the Premier with good alibi, and gives him a chance in a future election. On the other hand, if the Dominion Government allows these bills to stand, Premier Aberhart's days are numbered. But Alberta would be left a financial hulk.

And so these bills, while in no way pertaining to Social Credit or to the installation of the theories on which he was elected, have served their purpose for the Premier?

They have managed to keep the present government in power a little while longer, at the same time placing their "bete noir"—the Dominion Government—in an awkward position.

An Arkansas backwoods woman, the soles of whose feet had been hardened by a lifetime of shoelessness, was standing in front of her cabin fireplace one day when her husband addressed her:

"You'd better move your foot a mile, maw; you're standin' on a live coal!"

She said nonchalantly, "Which foot, paw?"

Our Fire Brigade

WHILE the town is indeed fortunate in having such an efficient Fire Brigade, which was again demonstrated last week, when their quick action certainly prevented a fire of more serious proportions at Bill's Confectionery, it should be borne in mind by those who are not members of the Fire Brigade, that it is much better not to interfere with their work.

Last week it was noticed that spectators (with evident good intentions to assist), started to run the hose from the fire fighting machines and did so the wrong end to, which delayed getting the flow of water on the fire. Seconds mean a lot when fighting a fire and unless called upon by the Fire Chief, these good helpers should allow the regular members of the brigade, who have the proper training, to do the work.

This is not intended for criticism, but merely to point out the hindrance rather than help of those not members of the brigade. Frame buildings are usually easy prey to the demon fire, and the way the fire referred to was put under control by the local brigade is a credit to their efficiency.

Hats off to our Fire Brigade!

This is sent in by a friend, who says he copied it from a tombstone somewhere:

I passed a Ford without a fuss,
I passed a load of hay;
I tried to pass a swearing bus,
And then I passed away.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

"So many Gods, so many creeds,
So many paths that wind and wind,
While just the art of being kind
Is all this old world needs."

I came across these half-forgotten lines in an ancient autograph book, while housecleaning. Their stark simplicity and truth appealed to me, as ever, very strongly. As a cure for today's ills, the sentiment contained in the above verse would measure up to the many "high faluting" panaceas put forward. "Just the art of being kind"—doesn't that strike right at the root of things? If we really lived this, we could not bear to see our fellow men starving for the necessities of life. Poverty would vanish, violence would be a thing of the past—in fact, it would be the simplest thing to keep the Ten Commandments, if we had mastered the art of being kind. Profit would shrink to a sane level, and everybody would have, as their right, the necessities (and more) of life. How could it be otherwise? In fact, we should all be LIVING "The Golden Rule," placing human values above material values.

It is all so simple; life SHOULD be simple. It is man who has complicated life.

Although we country folk are to put up with many disadvantages, we do not have the amenities of plumbing, nor the complicated niceties of city life, we do have compensations. We live nearer Nature, therefore, nearer God, and we should be able to look at life with clearer eyes. Our incomes, therefore the well-being of our loved ones, are entirely dependent on "Acts of God," and as our incomes, so our whole lives are governed more directly by the Almighty's scheme. When, in answer to the question, "Are you going to have a good crop, a farmer says, "God knows," he is simply enunciating a profound truth, not a blasphemy. I reiterate, "we farmer folk have compensations—we can and do accept God in our everyday life, and so He becomes in reality "Our Father" and "Friend."

We have not many churches in rural parts, and for this reason, must learn to Worship God as best we can. Does this matter very much? Surely a heartfelt prayer, breathed Heavenward from the great outdoors, is as acceptable to God as a stereotyped one, murmured inaudibly in a church.

Last week I learned, on unimpeachable authority, that in the United States of America there are over 700 denominations professing Christianity. Think of it, millions of people, publicly acknowledging their belief in one God and His Son, yet finding over 700 ways of doing it. Isn't it a pity, churches breaking away on account of some difference as regards ritual, or some other petty, trivial matter. Surely the great truth is that we believe that there is a God, and would it not be better to think of the world as God's Church, and in so doing, be able to worship Him wherever we are, or whenever we have the mind to do so.

A farm woman told me, not so long ago, that once she belonged to a certain church, but on moving West found there were no facilities in her part of the country to live up to her early training, so she went to the nearest accessible place where she could worship God. Is that not a beautiful and simple faith?—she wanted to worship God—not a denomination.

Isn't that a sane way of settling this very important problem? Why do we need "so many Gods" and "so many creeds"? Let us rather cultivate this simple faith, the "art of being kind," of helping the lame dog, and just trying to do our best, within our limited sphere. What a wonderful vision this calls forth—no more wars, less suffering and more happiness. What a goal to work for! If we all made a concentrated effort in this direction, I do verily believe there would be some difference as regards ritual, or some other petty, trivial matter. Surely the great truth is that we believe that there is a God, and would it not be better to think of the world as God's Church, and in so doing, be able to worship Him wherever we are, or whenever we have the mind to do so.

A comely colored girl had just been baptized in the river. As she came to the surface she cried: "Bless de Lawd! I've saved! Last night I was in the arms of Satan, but tonight I'm in de arms of de Lawd."

"Sister," came a baritone voice from the shore, "how is you all fixed up for tomorrow evenin'?"

Millions Lost By Albertans Through Aberhart Policies

By W. M. DAVIDSON

Some time in the not remote future, students of political affairs will be able to estimate with some accuracy, the cost in millions to the people of Alberta of these two years of reckless experiment in Social Credit. Most people know now that vast sums have been sacrificed but until the actual figures can be produced, the total will be an approximation.

In such an estimate I do not refer to losses through incapable administration such as the waste in road construction, the lavish salaries to the so-called "experts," the $50,000 a year for the useless Social Credit Board; the cost of largely increased staff of Government officials; the senseless experiment with scrip and similar unnecessary extravagance. Such losses are not inconsiderable but are trifling compared with the indirect losses which strike home to every Alberta resident with telling effect.

One of the more serious losses is in the flight of capital from the Province, which began soon after the change in Government and has continued in a steady stream until now all the available cash and liquid securities that can possibly be transferred, have been shipped to some safer place outside of the Province.

The extent of this flight of capital must total well on the hundred millions. Such a flight of capital is sufficient in itself to keep Alberta perpetually in a commercial depression.

Losses Borne By All

Some unthinking person may console himself with the conclusion that the banks can stand the losses, and so why worry. It is not the banks that are losing, they still have the money in their branches out-of-the-Province. The losses are borne by the business men, the professional men, the farmers, the laborers in fact by everyone living in Alberta.

Let anyone take note of the difference in business conditions when money is free and easy compared to similar conditions when money is close and tight and then let him reflect that with such flight of money from the Province, money will always be close and tight. Then he can consider something of the enormous cost in dollars and cents to every Albertan of this policy which has brought tight money and fastened it securely on every person. Such an economic policy has been holding Alberta in the grip of depression, which has lifted in nearly every other place.

Embargo On Capital

Even greater losses have been sustained by the embargo on capital, which also is the direct effect of Government policy. Capital is not coming into the Province to develop the rich resources and capital will not come as long as the present madness continues. Invite any person from outside of Alberta to bring money into the Province for investment and note the reply you will receive. No wise person will risk money in a Province with such an uncertain administration.

The only new money coming into Alberta since the Aberhart Government took office has been certain investment in oil, which was secured through the efforts of a cabinet minister since removed, and after most unusual pledges on behalf of the administration. Under normal conditions, the investment in oil would have been many times greater.

This is the time when idle money in all parts of the world is seeking investment in reasonable ventures. Vast sums have poured into the British Columbia mines, not more promising than the resources of Alberta.

Had there been no flight of capital from Alberta, the direct result of Government policy, and had capital flowed into the Province in normal manner without hindrance or restraint as it would have done but for Government policy, Alberta would now be well on the way to recovery, with the problem of unemployment nearly solved, as it is in British Columbia, Ontario and other Canadian provinces.

Bond Prices Down

How much has Alberta paid for the mistake of the Government in reckless destruction of the credit of the Province? The price of Alberta bonds—for which there is practically no market—has shrunk by at least $50,000,000. There is a serious shrinkage in prices of all municipal bonds and the securities of all business institutions have been effected.

No one can borrow money at any reasonable rate, and all because of the dark cloud of the Aberhart administration. In a young and undeveloped province, capital is needed if the province is to develop. There can be no new industries in Alberta while the present economic policy continues.

No Sale for Farm Land

Can any person sell farm land city property? If he does, he will pay an unreasonable penalty. The entire building industry is at a standstill, although new buildings are needed, particularly in the larger cities. No one will venture into any expenditure, because of uncertainty of what the Government may do. All industries in the larger cities, that have Alberta must reconcile itself to living a hand-to-mouth existence without hope of expansion or development while the present administrative control continues.

The conclusion would be amazing if we could get the definite figures concerning the following:

1. The flight of capital from the Province.
2. The embargo of capital due to Government policy.
3. Cost to Province by destruction of credit.
4. Retardation and collapse of business due to uncertain policies.

Loss as Large as Total Debt

Until the figures are available, no close approximation can be made, but I am convinced that an estimate which places the loss to the people of Alberta, during the two years of the present administration at approximately the total of the Alberta debt, is no serious exaggeration.

In this connection, it is well to bear in mind two things:

1. Every resident of the Prov-

Do You Know?

JOHN RIMBEY,

veteran seventy-nine-year-old farmer of this district? Mr. Rimbey first landed in Lacombe in March, 1903, and has lived on his present farm, two and one-half miles south-west of Lacombe, since that date.

He was born in Morgan County, Illinois, one of a large family of sixteen children. At the age of twenty-one he was married, moving to Kansas, where he worked an eighty-acre farm. He remarried in Illinois after the death of his first wife, and in 1901 he came up to this district to visit three of his brothers, Benjamin, Samuel and James, who had moved to the town which now bears their name. Taking a liking to the country, he returned to Kansas, gathered up his livestock, machinery and moved his family up to the Lacombe district.

Arriving in Lacombe in 1903, Mr. Rimbey immediately settled on his quarter-section farm, and within a short time he had the land cleared and broken. Mr. Rimbey has recollections of large yields off his present land, stating that one year he had threshed 115 bushels of oats to the acre.

Since his settlement in this district, Mr. Rimbey has always been an active supporter of the United Church of Lacombe. He has two children living, his married daughter living at Portland, Oregon, and his married son in Illinois.

Historical Picture At Avalon Theatre Starting Thursday

The thundering hoofs that dashed across the pages of history to be immortalized by the unforgettable poem by Alfred Lord Tennyson—sound again through Warner Bros.' stupendous screen version of "The Charge of the Light Brigade," which comes to the Avalon Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland in the featured roles.

Tennyson's verse deals only with the famous charge of the Light Brigade against the Russian artillery on the heights of Balaclava during the Crimean War—an action which forms only the terrific climax of the film story that is replete with thrills from start to finish, and presents a glamorous romance, in which two brothers are rivals for the love of a beautiful girl.

To Speak on "The Heart of Spain"

With the object of describing the work of the Canadian Blood-Transfusion Institute, operating in war-torn Spain under the direction of Dr. Norman Bethune, prominent Montreal surgeon, Arnold Robertson, president of the League for Peace and Democracy in Calgary, will speak at the Avalon Theatre, Lacombe, Tuesday night, Nov. 9.

A talking picture direct from the Spanish front line will be shown by Mr. Robertson as a background for his lecture. This film vividly portrays actual conditions on the fighting front as well as outlining the work of Dr. Bethune. While the film is unsuitable for children, they will be admitted if accompanied by parents or guardians.

Well-known in the Canadian peace movement, Mr. Robertson is the son of Sir Hugh S. Robertson, who is one of the distinguished British musicians who have from time to time adjudicated at the Alberta Musical Festivals. Sir Hugh is himself active in Spanish aid work in Scotland.

The meeting will be under the auspices of the Alberta Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy and a collection will be made to assist in the carrying on of Canada's humanitarian assistance to the Spanish people.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLER

Although no late reports of strawberries have been received by tattle, it is with un-bounded gratitude to the scribe of Clive, for his challenge. It has been an inspiring pleasure to know that others read one's dope. Therefore, may this scribe of Clive live long and happily waiting for me, tattle of Tees, to get ahead of him, or her as the case may be.

The chicken supper went over big, multitudes being served with delicious food. Several times the chicken almost ran out and many plates had slim portions to start with, yet in some unknown way the roasters would again become replenished and second helpings were in order. This scribe feels almost satisfied until the next chicken supper over south of Clive, Friday. Many strange faces among the guests were noticed which goes to prove that the human system needs and likes its food regardless of creed or calling. After the big feed, Rev. Keytles made a few appropriate remarks while acting as chairman for the show committee, this was followed by several solos, duets, and skits mixed with the old bit of tap dancing and recitations. By this time (11 p.m.) your scribe was so sleepy from over eating that his little bed was beckoning and he did not stay for the dance which lasted until towards daylight.

A few Tees-ites motored to Clive to take in a dance but some one treated them so rough that it was necessary to go after them. Even the car had to be towed in. Mr. Tom Cunningham, accompanied by Mrs. Cunningham, son Robert and Mr. James Anderson, of Alx, motored to Bowden Sunday to attend the funeral of Duncan Cunningham, an uncle of Tom's who had been visiting his old haunts here in the west when he was stricken. The late Mr. Cunningham had been living in Hamilton, Ont., since his retirement from active farming in 1914.

With a few fields still to thresh, a heavy rain visited the district over the week-end, thus giving the workers another holiday and the unthreshed farmers a slight case of jitter.

At a recent meeting of the local veterans it was decided to oil the town pump the morning of November 11th, so that there would be no danger of it sticking the following morning.

A carload of black Pole-Angus cattle left during the week for breeding purposes in the United States shipped by Sam Henderson of Lacombe to a point in Maryland.

Ken McDougall, was seen assisting unloading a car of Medicine Hat flour. No doubt he was working up another appetite for a chicken supper.

Dan McMillan, 84, gave a demonstration "on how to keep

Sport-Scope

By JACK MCCAUGHERY

When the Rangers and Americans clashed in the second all-New York exhibition hockey match played in the new artificial ice palace in Edmonton last Thursday night, the many hockey followers present were given a sample of hockey as played in big time. Although the game was nothing to whisper over the back fence about for days and days, it was well worth seeing and I don't think anyone went home disappointed. The fans saw such stars as Dave Schriver, the veteran Frank Boucher, Iron-Murray Murdock, Earl Robertson, the Colvilles and many others, as well as getting a taste of fast skating and good hockey. What more was to be expected?

The scoreboard read 3-1 for the Rangers at the end of regulation time. The younger Colville had put the rejuvenated Rangers into it from after 15 minutes and 16 seconds of the first period on a beautiful lone effort. Mac whipped a low shot from close in to bulge the hemp behind Earl Robertson. This tally remained shining on the score board until Butch Keeling put them two up with a fluke goal from behind the net in the second frame. The Amerks tried hard to get the puck in there behind Dave Kerr, and it was Johnny Gallagher who finally did the trick. Early in the third period, Gallagher lined an ankle-high shot from just inside the Ranger blue-line that flashed into the net before Kerr had time to move. Just one goal down, the Dutton squad then began to press. Many times they came close, but none close enough. The final period saw two of the "kids," Bob Kirk and Clint Smith, break away to give the Rangers their third score.

According to Babe Pratt, the big, dark, curly-haired defence-man of the Rangers, the ice was in very good condition. Pratt also expressed his opinion that the Edmonton arena was "a pretty good rink."

Frank Boucher can still show some stuff. . . . Frankie pulled a beautiful lone play in the first period. . . . Yes, quite probably have to light a fire under him to get him hot and bothered in a game. . . . The most surprising thing was the high-sticking and the elbowing in the game. . . . Jack Shill gave Lynn Patrick an elbow and got a punch in the ear in one move. This happened in the second period and the loud-speaker boomed out, "Patrick of the Rangers being penalized for cross-checking." Yes, quite a cross-check, eh Jack Shill? . . . Both goalies made some swell stops. . . . Little Al Murray on the Amerks' defence was keeping them all over. He's small but sure steps into 'em.

Schriver didn't show anything outstanding. . . . he didn't exert himself very much. . . . Saw Lester Patrick rushing around

Young People's Rally Held at Bentley Tuesday

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BENTLEY. — In spite of the fact that threshing is still in full swing, representatives from Clive, Ponoka and Rimbey Sunday schools gathered in Bentley on Tuesday, Oct. 26, to discuss the problems faced by the teachers of Christian education and to study ways and means of making the Sunday School a more effective instrument of Christian character building.

The morning session, led by Rev. G. B. Young of Ponoka, dealt with Sunday School attendance and considered how it might be enlarged by making the Sunday school more interesting for the children. Luncheon was served at noon by the Ladies' Aid of the United Church of Bentley.

Rev. W. J. Houston of Rimbey opened the afternoon session with a short address on the Primary and Junior pupils of the S. S. One thing he hoped could be overcome was the breaking away of the Intermediate pupils from the S.S.

He stressed "the need of the pupil is the rule of the school." This was followed by an address by Mrs. Kennedy dealing with the help of music in the S. S. in the way of teaching new and interesting songs to the pupils.

Miss Lillian Carscadden of the girls work board of Calgary spoke of the relationship of the C.G.I.T. and Young Peoples' work to the S.S.

Young Peoples' Rally
In the evening a young peoples' rally of the south end of the Lacombe Presbytery was held when about 75 young people from Ponoka, Clive, Lacombe, Rimbey, Rains Creek and Bentley partook of a banquet in the Club rooms.

Edgar Todd of Lacombe, president of the society was chairman of the evening. This was followed by an address given by Miss Carscadden on "Christian Youth Building a New World." She explained how we could all live fuller lives if we would travel on a horizontal zero plane instead of on a vertical plus 100 and minus 100 plane. She also likened our lives to a butcher's block and showed how we could get much more out of life if we were not afraid of stepping over the edge of the block by doing tasks that seemed impossible.

between periods. . . he looked worried, over what I don't know.

KEYHOLE CUT-OUTS
Murray Murdock, forward, New York Rangers: Born in Lucknow, Ont. Played in Ontario and Manitoba and was captain of the cross-checking world championship Manitoba Varsity team of '23. With Winnipeg Maroons in '24 and signed by the Rangers in the American league. He is a big man, playing all forward positions. Working as usual on our
120th Birthday

One hundred and twenty years ago there were only seven of us working on the staff of the Bank—a cashier, an accountant, a paying teller, a second teller, a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper, and a porter—that was the entire staff. Today we are more than 6000, in more than 500 Branches, all working to render modern, experienced banking service.

In times of expansion and depression, in the best and the worst of economic conditions; through peace and wars, panics and political upheavals, Canadians have learned to rely upon the unwavering safety and banking assistance of the Bank of Montreal. Older than the Dominion itself, yet young as the latest sound business enterprise of Canada, we are working as usual on our 120th Birthday.

Blackfalds

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BLACKFALDS. — Halloween passed off quietly in the village this year. The children made their usual rounds of the residences gathering their "treats" and little damage was done as a result of practical jokes.

Last Friday night a party was held at Aspetland Hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Miller, who are leaving shortly for the U.S. A good crowd was in attendance and a very pleasant evening was spent in games before supper.

After supper, dancing was enjoyed to the music supplied by those in attendance and the party broke up at 3 a.m. The Millers are holding their sale in the near future and will speed off to Kansas City as soon as possible afterward.

Hockey Broadcasts To Start Sat., Nov. 6

"Hello Canada—and hockey fans in Newfoundland and the United States!—Nov. 6, Foster Hewitt's familiar greeting will sweep over a chain of stations from Coast to Coast. Fans in Canada—the United States—and even in more distant countries—will rally round their radios to hear the opening Imperial Oil Hockey Broadcast of the game between Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Americans, at Maple Leaf Gardens.

"That his program is the world's biggest and most popular weekly sports broadcast, is borne out by a letter received from an enthusiastic woman hockey fan, formerly of Nova Scotia, but who writes to say she is going to 'listen in' from her far-away home in Cristobal, Canal Zone, where, she claims, reception is crystal clear.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, "Crop Testing Plan"

As I was writing this "World of Wheat" column last evening—something about Thatcher wheat, I think it was—the news came to me that Samuel Larcombe, one of the West's greatest Englishmen and pioneers in prairie agriculture, had died, aged 86. I found that I could think of nothing but him, and of his splendid life-long service to western agriculture.

This country needs a rust-resistant wheaten, he told me in 1922. "I've made some crosses and I've got good results. In a few years I may have something. I can't think of anything but wheat but him, and of his splendid life-long service to western agriculture.

In his sitting room, which was also his seed laboratory and workshop, I saw a splendid array of cups, diplomas, certificates and medals, testifying to 50 years of successful work.

"I'm proud of my awards," I said. "Never mind those things," he exclaimed, "they're nothing." Then, in a heightened tone, he said, "Look at this wheat!"

That was Samuel Larcombe. He was then 71 years old and still fired with enthusiasm to do better and better work, hoping that his effort might benefit his adopted country, and be helpful to his fellow men.

The following factors have tended to raise prices:

Only about half of the Canadian spring wheat crop grading 1 and 2 Northern; Spain again buys foreign wheat; some moisture deficiency in Kansas; excessive rains interrupt Italian seedling; Spain buys U.S. winter wheat at Montreal; Turkey reports active foreign demand for barley; reduction in Belgium pig population; corn loan proposed in the U.S.

The following factors have tended to lower prices:

Seeding well under way in Russia; general rains improve crops in Southern Hemisphere; official Italian crop estimate is much larger than in 1936; last

One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 244): "If man were dust in his earliest stage of development, we might admit the hypothesis that he returns eventually to his primitive condition; but man was never more nor less than man."

TAX MONEY TO BE

SPEND ON HIGHWAYS The earmarking of $5,000,000 by the Michigan legislature for the current general revenue fund for highway improvement, probably marks the first instance in which a state has arranged a continuing appropriation from its general revenue for this purpose.

The $5,000,000 bill was passed June 10 and had earlier been passed by the Senate. There was also a bill before the legislature to appropriate $2,000,000 from the general revenue fund each year to go to the counties, to be used exclusively in highway improvement, and a bill of $600,000 for snow removal.

The theory back of these appropriations bills was that a good share of receipts of the state's sales tax, which go into the general revenue fund, comes from the sale of cars, tires and accessories, and should go to keeping up the roads.

Total receipts from Michigan's gasoline tax and auto license fees go to the highway departments, there being no diversion. Net total receipts from the state fuel tax in 1936 were $25,739,000.

Fact and Fiction . . .

By ART

Last week I came across a book in the Lacombe Public Library which, although it is not a new book, should please those who have not yet read it and like stories with an air of mystery about them. It is entitled

"House Across the River," by Elizabeth M. Corbett, and is a splendid story centering on the activities of a Mr. and Mrs. Farewell in a Chicago suburb. Mrs. Farewell, once Anne Monet, a pretty French miss who arrived in America just after the Great War, is suddenly forced into an uphill fight to keep the one great sorrow of her past from the ears of her devoted husband. Her heroic efforts to smooth over the difficulty form the basis of a grand little mystery, without any of the obnoxious "smart detective work" which spoils many stores of this type.

"The D.A. Calls B. Murder," by Erle Stanley Gardner, is now on the shelves of the library, and in my opinion is one of the best yarns yet published by this brilliant author. It's the story of a little minister, the Rev. Larabee, a quiet, kindly soul, who registers at an up-state hotel under an assumed name, and dies shortly after.

A packet of sleeping powders is found in the little minister's room and most of those interested quickly decide the death had been caused by an overdose of these powders; Douglas Perry, young district attorney, however, is convinced that "murder has been done," and proceeds to unravel a plot which will keep the reader right on edge until the last page has been reached.

"Honey in the Horn," by H. R. Davis, is a comparatively new book in the library and has been highly praised by some critics, yet I am inclined to think the author has missed his mark. It is a story of Oregon in the early days and gives us a thor-

Claims Blue Pledges No Longer "Pouring In" To Social Credit Headquarters

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON—Election forecasts in Alberta have focused attention on the background in recent weeks and the reason for this is that nobody wants an election—yet.

Despite government claims that an appeal to the country would return them to power nobody in the administration, and Premier Aberhart least of anybody, is bold enough to put the thing to the test.

The fact is that everything now points to dwindling support for the Social Credit government and the loud hoistings over the radio of the "vast majority of our people are behind us," is just so much piffle and party propaganda—certainly it isn't the truth—even on Sundays.

The results of the big protest meetings in various places have shattered that "90 per cent" support story to shreds and the perpetuation of it by government platform speakers is clear evidence of the inaccuracy of their theories and beliefs and the political dishonesty of their aims. But the chief factor in the situation that precludes an election at an early date is the dwindling stream of "Blue Pledges" coming into government headquarters.

Political Trick Speaking Premier Aberhart and Hon. E. C. Manning have both recently, over the air on their Sunday platforms, declared how satisfactorily the Blue Pledges are coming in. The Premier, two weeks ago, declared that, judging by the way the Blue Pledges are "pouring in," it seemed that no election was necessary. That, of course, is just a bit of clever political trick speaking. There are two ways in which the Blue Pledges could pour in, one by the million—which would indicate an election would be a safe bet—the other is, in a fast diminishing stream—which would indicate an election is not a safe bet.

The course which the government will follow, judged in the light of the fact that a renewed mandate from the people would be of the greatest advantage now to the administration, will be the true indication as to how much reliance can be placed on the unqualified declarations that Blue Pledges are pouring in. It is significant that for some weeks ough and interesting description of the methods used in farming, trapping and fishing by those pioneers who "blazed the trail"—both on the Coast and in the Eastern part of the State.

However, the author's principal character is an admittedly dull, colorless youth and he forms the background for a weak story. The choice of this uninteresting as to how much reliance can be placed on the unqualified declarations that Blue Pledges are pouring in. It is significant that for some weeks

Paved Highways Boon to Alberta

Keeping an eye on the tourist traffic, the Province of New Brunswick has adopted the slogan, "paved highways for our Province."

Now that Alberta is launching out on a hard surfacing program, it is interesting to note what steps are being taken in other provinces. In practically every one, plans are being made or work has been undertaken with a view to establishing a system of paved highways. Some have extensive paved highway systems already.

Paved highways are an asset to a Province, attracting tourist trade and improving business as a result. Dirt roads are not exactly a liability but it is a recognized fact that they present added dangers to motorists. Dust nuisance and flying stones are among the faults of dirt roads. Many an accident has been caused just by a flying piece of stone distracting a driver's attention.

Alberta, with 110 miles of the first stage of hard surfacing completed this year, is all set for finishing touches to be put on an extensive mileage early next year.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association state this should be given the attention of the government just as soon as the construction season opens, so that the work will be completed when the tourist season reaches its peak.

OTTAWA.—The first official estimate of the alfalfa and fodder crops in the Dominion for 1937 shows increases in production over those of 1936. Lower yields are estimated for root crops, including turnips and sugar beets.

Now, the hoistings in figures in connection with the Blue Pledges on Sunday afternoons and evenings has ceased. No definite figures are given. The matter is all just desperate sales talk now and the real fact is that the Blue Pledges, like the famous "covenants" and "Prosperity Certificates," are a dismal failure.

Would Have to be Forced No, there will be no election until it is either forced on the government in some way, or until Premier Aberhart has reasons for guessing that he will get back into his position as big teacher of Social Credit and would-be dictator of the consciences of the people of Alberta again. He is unlikely to surrender his premiership before he is forced to do so.

But a bye-election is now in the offing once more and it may be of material help in convincing the halting portion of the public to make up its mind on the question of support for the government of Alberta. It is likely to come off in Lethbridge early in December—reports in government circles indicate the first of December.

This bye-election, unlike the recent one in Edmonton, will be a battle in which the government is vitally interested and must take a part unless it is too cowardly. It is for one of the seats in the legislature belonging to the Social Credit party, left vacant by the retirement of Hans E. Wright.

No Doubt About Voting There can be no doubt as to which way the voting will go, providing the old line political parties do as well as was done in Edmonton and place a single candidate in the field. The majority of electors in Lethbridge are opposed to the Aberhart regime, and if they are not split up into small units, can easily swamp the government candidate under a storm of ballots.

A prominent Edmonton business man, not in politics and whose judgment is beyond question, was through the southern part of the province recently and on returning declared the whole south country had turned from Social Credit and the recessionary process was gaining momentum weekly. This gentleman was once spoken of by Premier Aberhart as a sound and reliable business man whose judgment was, of the best.

Perhaps now—as in other cases where the Premier's views are not swallowed whole without questioning—he will change his mind regarding his estimate of the gentleman's qualities. The Premier has only one guage to measure his friends and opponents by and that is, "Does he believe in my sincerity and greatness?" He doesn't put it in that many words, but the names of Cockcroft, Chant and Hugill illustrate the fact.

New Signs for Alberta Roads

For some years, tourists visiting this Province have expressed strong protests over the lack of direction signs on the highways. Besides having poor roads, this Province also was deficient in respect to road markers, it was claimed.

This situation has been given the serious consideration of officials of the Alberta Motor Association, who have from time to time impressed upon the provincial authorities the vital need of proper road signing.

Now that the Province has embarked on a hard surfacing policy, adequate road signing is all the more necessary, it is pointed out.

A start has been made on this work by the Province, following an interview which officials of the A.M.A. had with Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works. Posts with directional arrows have been placed at certain points on the Calgary-Bassett highway, at locations selected by the A.M.A. officials. Posts and arrows are painted white, with the word in black.

Next Spring, it is understood, the government will place signs on the main highway from Edmonton to the United States border.

Over $40,000,000 worth of Western Farm Products poured into the East last year

In steady work, the industrial employee maintains a high standard of living. His appetite for Prairie Province foodstuffs is insatiable. He and his family are one of the reasons why over $40,000,000 worth of Western farm products found a market in the East last year.

Over $40,000,000 is a lot of money; it's a sum that means much to the Western producer, collectively and individually. It went, generously, to every type of farmer.

For instance, those specializing in live stock, took in over $15,000,000 for 127,000 tons of fresh and cured dressed meat, 175,705 head of cattle, 21,144 calves and 41,557 hogs shipped to the East. Nearly 10,000 tons of butter brought in $4,500,000 more, while grains, poultry, eggs, honey and other commodities accounted for an additional aggregate of well over $20,000,000.

That is why a prosperous industrial East means a prosperous agricultural West: for more and better Eastern workers mean a greater demand on their Western commissary. Your purchase of a Made-in-Canada car helps towards this end.

There are 18,000 workers in Canada's automobile plants, and 15,000 employed in the 202 parts manufacturers' plants. An average of four to a family means over 150,000 people whose prosperity depends in whole or in part on the activities of the motor car industry. And as well as the employment of railways who live by traffic and you have a huge cross-section of Eastern Canada—a group of people who contributed much of the $40,000,000 spent last year for Western farm products.

For statistical and further information about this industry, write to Automotive Industries, 1000 Lonsdale Building, Toronto.

Extend Gravelled Roads in North

Tourists who are planning to visit the Peace River country, that land of great agricultural wealth, will find miles and miles of gravelled roads, states J. A. McNeill, secretary of the Alberta Motor Association, who has just returned from a tour of the north country.

Every year for the past 10 years, Mr. McNeill has been visiting the Peace River country. He has been in a good position to study the transportation requirements of the region and has experienced the difficulties of motoring through that part of the province.

This year Mr. McNeill was amazed at the changed picture of the northern district. He found no less than 114 miles of highways, gravelled.

Numerous people are anxious to motor into the Peace River district, either to locate land or take advantage of the scenic beauty of that region.

The late Guglielmo Marconi, noted inventor, was born in 1874.
